Lab Website

You're off to a great start. I love the color choices in the image is chosen. I really liked your newer version with the larger images. I think my only notes were to take out the adopt a dog today because it's not relevant enough to the subject of the site, and also to label any images that are not of labs. And if you want to include silhouettes either add in some more or take out the one that you have.